Perth Vascular Clinic was established in 2006 by Vascular and Endovascular Surgeon, Dr Marek Garbowski MBBS, FRACS (Vasc).

Dr Garbowski completed his Bachelor of Medicine/Bachelor of Surgery (MBBS) in 1994, and undertook extensive vascular and endovascular training in Australia and overseas before being awarded the Vascular Fellowship by the Royal Australasian College of Surgeons (FRACS – Vasc) in 2005.

He opened his clinic at St John of God Hospital in Subiaco the following year.

Dr Garbowski treats vascular problems in both public and private patients of all ages, and has access to both public and private hospitals when surgery is required. He is also Head of the Vascular Surgery Department at Sir Charles Gardner Hospital.

Passionate about vascular health, Dr Garbowski teaches at both UWA and Notre Dame University, sharing his expertise with the next generation of medical practitioners.
